Sept-Îles

Sept-Îles sits at the point where one of the world's greatest rivers meets the sea. Located north of the 50th parallel, the region is famed for its deep-sea port able to welcome the biggest ships. With a diverse mix of cultures and rich natural resources, this cradle of the Innu community has welcomed countless trappers and fishermen over the years. Its stunning archipelago, beautiful sand beaches, vast boreal forest, and countless sights and activities mean there's something magical to discover at every turn. From backcountry to beaches, Sept-Îles is the vibrant heart of a region known for its warm hospitality, and seven breathtaking islands ready to welcome you with new adventures and natural wonders.

INVESTMENTS

Acquisition of a virtual platform designed to enhance the cruise passenger experience during their stopover in Sept-Îles. A QR code is provided to the ship's crew ahead of arrival, allowing passengers to plan their day in advance. It provides a comprehensive list of restaurants, museums, activities, and travel times between locations.

During their visit to Sept-Îles, passengers can use this app to easily discover points of interest, navigate between sites, and even contact the port of call team for additional information. The application is regularly updated for each ship calling at Sept-Îles to keep passengers informed of any last-minute changes.
